What's the Big Deal About Small Groups?

By Derek McCollum, Associate Pastor of Discipleship and Young Adults

Let's face it—these days it's easy to put together a really wonderful worship experience in the comfort of your own home or car. You can download the best music, find the best preaching and tailor everything to your most particular desire. But guess what? Finding the best of everything on your own is the worst way to go about the Christian life. Why? Because we need each other in order to grow as Christians. As one author puts it, "your walk with God is a community project."

It's because the Lord has built into us a need for community that First Presbyterian is making a strong push this fall for greater involvement in small groups. In particular, we are re-launching our home fellowship groups (remember the groups from Lent?). These groups are a great opportunity to get together with others and experience the truth of the gospel together.

Let me give you a quick glimpse of how things are going to roll out in the early fall (we're planning for these groups to begin right after Labor Day).

- Groups are already starting to organize. In fact, this is a great time for you to start discussing the idea of a small group with your friends and neighbors. Been in a group before? Talk to those group members. New to the small-group-thing? Start talking to those you know about getting together. It's really that easy.

- Then, as August ramps up, we'll host two major small group events—we're calling them Meet and Match events (m&ms!)—and they will take place in the reception room during the Sunday mornings of August 14 and 21. These events will simply let you find a group based on the criteria that matters most to you. All of our groups will be represented, allowing those unattached to mingle, meet and match up with those that represent the best fit. It's like speed dating for small groups!

- The majority of our groups will then get together weekly (between Labor Day and Thanksgiving) and study the Bible passage that was preached on the previous week. With the content already delivered and discussion questions provided, we think getting together will be both easy and flexible.

Our goal is to have 500 people connected in a small group. That's an ambitious goal, but I think it's doable. Will you consider being one of those people? I hope so.

July Combined Worship and Sunday School

During the five Sundays of July, First Presbyterian will come together for one single 10.30 am worship service in the Sanctuary. We'll have three adult Sunday School options. Each begins at 9.30 am with combined worship following at 10.30 in the Sanctuary (No SS on July 3).

Options include:

1. Christianity Explored. A

good class if you:

- a. Aren't sure what you believe or are new to church and/or to Christianity.
- b. Have a friend who fits into that first category. This is a great class to bring a friend.
- c. Have been a Christian for quite some time. It's easy to forget what it is like to hear the gospel for the first time.

Come and hear it afresh and be reminded of the core message of Jesus' life, death and resurrection.

2. "Side by Side." This class will explore the book, "Side By Side," that was given out a few weeks ago. Come and discuss what it means to be needy and to be needed—the roots of true community. Call the church office (387.0617) if you need a book.

3. Global Outreach. Let MacGregor Magruder and Whitney Alexander walk you through the materials Mac uses on the mission field and learn more about God's mission in the world. We encourage you to invite a friend for these blended services.

Taking Care of Business

By Barry Phillips, Ministry Executive

Our campus and facilities were provided through God's benevolence and by the generosity and sacrificial giving of our members. They provide a place from which we do mission and ministry far beyond downtown Baton Rouge. Inevitably, they require not only tender love and care, but also renovation and restoration. God has provided for this as well. So that you know:

- After careful professional analysis, a much needed campus wide waterproofing project has begun. It includes the replacement of the windows in the Education Building. And it will repair damage that has occurred over many years, prevent future deterioration and stop invasive moisture from seeping in to begin new damage.
- Our Bell Tower will benefit from a new control and sound system, giving us a purer sound and greater flexibility with songs and tunes.
- Our Dunham Chapel will be up-fitted with new lights for the chancel and primary space, improvements to the sound and lighting control system and tailored pew cushions.
- You may have noticed the stained glass windows on the east and west sides of the Sanctuary are 'missing.' They've been taken out for refurbishment and cleaning but will return by the end of July.
- The screens and projectors in our Sanctuary will be replaced over the next few months. Existing equipment is aging and failing. Look for a 'new look' up front when this project is complete.
- The grassy area between the Sanctuary and the Chapel will become more usable as it is up-graded to match our terraced garden north of the Chapel. The turf affords an outdoor platform for creative programming throughout the year (even when it rains).

Finally, we've begun exploring a campus wide wireless communication system that will enable our greeting and ministry teams, staff and pastors and all security personnel to communicate in real time. Coupled with additions to our security and emergency res mplete this year; and all of this because God has already provided the resources in the form of special funds, pledges and bequests. May we never take these many blessings for granted. May we be faithful in all things. May God be glorified in all that we have and all that we do.

Matthew 25: 40 By Kevin D. Hoy, CEO, The Smiles Foundation

The King will reply, 'Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.'

The entire work of The Smiles Foundation in Romania functions day-by-day, 365 days a year, with these words of Jesus echoing in our ears. Our call to share the gospel to a hurting world is a privilege but a challenge, especially when the hurting world is right before our eyes and manifesting itself with hungry, sick or naked children. A challenge when mothers and fathers cannot provide the basic essentials, a safe home environment, the opportunity to attend school or the ability to work toward the hope of a better life.

When the plan and purpose God has for the starving, sick child is hard to explain and on the surface 'irrelevant' to his or her needs, sharing the Good News of the gospel becomes even more challenging. The daily challenge is to move the impoverished beyond immediate problems and look to the eternal solutions. Providing food and shelter for the vulnerable and giving healthcare to the sick is what Smiles does on a daily basis. We build the bridge that earns the opportunity to share the Good News of the gospel to all who will listen. In meeting these simple but essential needs, people come to understand our desire to support through the great challenge for survival. Through surviving another day, there is further chance to recognize God as the Creator and the One who has a plan and purpose for our lives.

Mircea is a seven-year-old boy. When he started school, his teacher insisted he go to a doctor. After many tests, it was discovered Mircea has no vision in his right eye. Surgery can restore his vision completely. His family does not have the funds to cover further testing, the cost of transportation to the hospital or accommodations for his mother to be with him for the surgery and recovery.

Each time we look at people like Mircea who need our support, we think of Jesus. If he was poor and starving, what would we do? Our hope and prayer is that whatever we do for the least of these, we do as if for him. Thank you for your help in continuing the mission. For information on how to participate, please contact Johnny Schwab at jschwab56@hotmail.com.

Come enjoy lunch, fellowship and this fun new format where a panel of pastor(s) and trained women will answer some commonly asked questions on theology, the church and Christian life. Lunch will be at 11.30 am in the reception room. It'll be fun so bring a friend and don't forget to bring your questions. $10 per person. Register online or at the Connection Center. Childcare provided.

Officer Nominations for the 2019 Class

The First Presbyterian Church Officer Nominating Committee nominates Elders and Deacons by receiving suggested names of members from the congregation, prayerfully preparing a slate and presenting the slate at the annual October congregational meeting for election. Please submit names of members and place them in the offering plate or mail to the church office by the end of July. Suggestion cards are located in the pews and at the Connection Center.
